The Dance of Love

Flamenco is the unofficial national dance of Spain. Its characteristic foot stomps, conducted with erect torso and raised hands, speak of passion, pride and love. So when Villa Terrace decided to host "An Evening in Spain" to help raise funds for the 16th Street Community Health Center, flamenco had to be included in the activities. Spanish wines and tapas served at 5 p.m. precede the sonorous and colorful movements of internationally acclaimed members of Ensemble

Espanol, Irma Suarez and Cecilia Barnuso. They will be accompanied by guitarist Peter Balme, a senior faculty member of the Wisconsin Conservatory of Music and a co-founder of the Milwaukee Classical Guitar Society. A mere $50 will buy you a ticket. FMI, 481-6710.
