■ Shalala visits Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE — Health and Human Services Secretary Donna Shalala dons a Mexican hat during a visit Tuesday to the Sixteenth Street Community Health Center, which dedicated a $2 million addition.

Shalala praised the clinic, which serves hispanic residents on the city's near South Side, for helping people who have no health insurance or doctors, a goal she said the nation should adopt.

"What we're really talking about is whether working Americans are going to have coverage and whether they're going to have coverage that is with them no matter what happens to them," Shalala told a crowd of health care professionals and community activists.
